

3 023.

0 - 23.121 1.41 -0.01 1.331-0.0 3 1.231-0.10 1.134-0.13 1.00 -0.155 0. 53-0.155

Why did the school refer my child to Psychological Services?

The school may have referred your child to Psychological Services if they are having difficulty in school or at home. The school may have noticed that your child is having trouble with learning, behavior, or social skills. The school may also have noticed that your child is having trouble with emotions or self-regulation. The school may have referred your child to Psychological Services to help them with these issues.

Why did the school refer my child to Psychological Services?

The school may have referred your child to Psychological Services if they are having difficulty in school or at home. The school may have noticed that your child is having trouble with learning, behavior, or social skills. The school may also have noticed that your child is having trouble with emotions or self-regulation. The school may have referred your child to Psychological Services to help them with these issues.

Who will be seeing my child?

The school may refer your child to a school psychologist, a school counselor, or a social worker. These professionals are trained to help students with a variety of issues, including learning difficulties, behavior problems, and social skills. They may also provide support to parents and teachers.

Why do you need my permission?

The school needs your permission to provide your child with psychological services. This is because the school is responsible for your child's education and well-being. The school needs to know that you are aware of the services and that you agree to them. This is also to ensure that your child's privacy is protected.

How old do you have to be to give consent?

The age of consent varies by state. In some states, you must be 18 years old to give consent. In other states, you may be able to give consent at a younger age. It is important to check the laws in your state. The school will provide you with information about the laws in your state.

Can I change my mind after giving permission?

Yes, you can change your mind after giving permission. You can withdraw your consent at any time. The school will stop providing services to your child if you do so.

What kind of services will my child receive?

The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child. These services may include individual counseling, group counseling, behavior management, and social skills training. The school will provide you with more information about the services that your child will receive.

What is a psychological assessment?

A psychological assessment is a process of gathering information about a person's thoughts, feelings, and behaviors. This information is used to help understand the person's problems and to develop a plan for treatment. The assessment may include interviews, observations, and standardized tests.

1. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will talk to your child and to you about the assessment.

The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will talk to your child and to you about the assessment. They will explain what the assessment is and why it is needed. They will also answer any questions that you or your child have.

The assessment may include interviews, observations, and standardized tests. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will use the information from the assessment to help your child.

2. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

3. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment. A school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

4. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment. A school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

5. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment. A school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

A school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment. A school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

10. The school psychologist, counselor, or social worker will provide services to your child based on the results of the assessment.

